World's first 'virtual' computer has been created by engineers - and it's a LOT easier to use "The Virtual Reality Computer" The virtual reality computer was the brainchild of scientists from Stanford University and their colleagues. It will allow users to interact with virtual worlds and, for the first time, see their own full-body movement reflected in the virtual world. "We created this computer

so we can get a sense of what it would be like to go into virtual reality," says J. Andrew Goodman of Stanford's Computer Graphics Laboratory. The computer is built around a 64 x 64 pixel liquid crystal display screen. It's controlled by a program of 50,000 simulated logic gates. On top of the display screen, there are stereo video cameras that track the wearer's head movements and send these signals to a program that projects the user's movement in a three-dimensional world. Every step a user makes is translated into a series of movements of light beams that are reflected from different spots on the screen. For example, if the viewer turns to the left and the heads-up

Remo Privacy Cleaner is a good-looking junk cleaner that aims to protect your privacy when sharing the computer with other people by getting rid of traces of your activity, such as browser history. This way, it also frees up space on your hard disk to make room for new data. Protect your privacy and free up disk space Adopting a modern look with large buttons that are hard to miss, the main app window gives you a description of all operations which can be performed. The targeted junk files on the computer include document and run history, Windows temporary files, Clipboard and Recycle Bin contents, network credentials, and the system registry. A default selection is made by the program but you can change this by including any items in the removal and protecting the rest. If you're not sure of what to delete and what to keep, you should know that Remo Privacy Cleaner shows scan results with the full paths of all objects taken into account for deletion. Therefore, if you change your mind about something, you can go back, make a new selection and then make a new scan before the cleanup job. Clear browser traces and wipe free disk space The web browsers supported by the program are Internet Explorer, Mozilla Firefox, GoogleChrome, Safari and Opera. It's capable of clearing cache, cookies, history, the address bar, Index.dat, autocomplete form data, and downloaded program files.

Furthermore, it can clean junk traces from a long list of programs, like Acrobat Reader and Microsoft Office. Another feature that equips the application is a free space wiper. Although it doesn't have a file shredder, Remo Privacy Cleaner is capable of securing free space left behind by deleted files, in order to make sure that sensitive items cannot be recovered with specialized software. It supports fast zero write, random write, and DOD 5220.22.M. Lastly, the tool has a one-click option designed to handle junk files, Internet issues, PC history, and trash files. The registered version also gives you the possibility to schedule tasks to run automatically, without your intervention. Taking everything into account, Remo Privacy Cleaner comes bundled with plenty options to help you protect your privacy. Cyber-Explorer is a highly-advanced software which comes equipped with all sorts of interesting tools, ones that even the most specialized security specialist couldn't dream of. Although, it's a rather young program, it's really quite

What's New in the?

Windows computers are places where data is stored. Whether it is your personal documents or sensitive financial information, keeping that data secure and private is important. Unfortunately, as you get comfortable with Windows and search for ways to increase productivity on your computer, you may be more likely to leave traces of activities on your computer. Remo Privacy Cleaner can help you clean that up. By using Remo Privacy Cleaner, you can remove history, history, network credentials, temporary files, clipboard content, log files, registry information, cookies, and other elements that reveal sensitive information. You can also protect your computer with a built-in free disk space cleanser to reclaim disk space and make it easy to free up space for new files. Remo Privacy Cleaner includes these features: #

Clear the long list of programs and the web browsers used for data transmission. # Delete Internet Explorer cache and cookies # Clean Internet Explorer address bar # Delete index.dat and other Internet Explorer files # Delete temporary files # Clean history, clipboard content, and other unwanted traces on your computer # Reset autocomplete form data # Erase network credentials, log files, and system registry entries # Free disk space by clearing the Recycle Bin and deletions # One-click erasing of junk files # Free space by cleaning Windows Traces Remo Privacy Cleaner Screenshot: Data Cleaner Default is designed to free up disk space, secure personal data and delete accumulated junk files. Its intuitive interface is intended for a beginner, as it comes with easy-to-understand descriptions of each main function. You can also navigate through the program with a built-in disk space cleaner, which shows the size of each folder and file and includes a number of options for cleaning trash. In addition, the program has a free disk space remover, junk files manager and a registry cleaner, all intended to help you to reorganize and optimize the hard drive. It eliminates the Web history, temporary Internet files, Index.dat, autocomplete form data and used programs that have been installed in the computer. It also looks after cookies, the Recycle Bin, temporary files and network credentials. As for the junk files, it will deal with files of any type, but it has been designed in such a way that the user can be certain of the items that will be erased. The program supports a variety of languages, such as English, Russian, Czech, Danish, Finnish, German and Spanish
